Garage Recommendations

Garage Wall Storage Organizer

These wall racks are amazing, prevent trip hazards and cluttered corners and also hold bigger items like folding chairs and bikes! I love them.

Wallmaster Bike Rack

Speaking of bikes, if you have several, give these a shot. Keep bikes out of the way and not tipping over.

PLKOW Sports Equipment Storage

If you have kids, you have sports gear. I love this cart for all the sports stuff, and with wheels, you can easily move it around.

Power Tool Wall Organizer

The hubs has loads of tools, but he has a shop. I love these for battery powered tools and easy accessibility. No more searching for charged batteries!

Overhead Garage Storage Racks

If you have a lot of stuff to store, you cannot live without these, and you can get several in the average garage. Very important to ensure they are screwed to a stud! These are great for bins or boxes you are storing long term, not actively using, and they hold a ton of stuff. They leave the very valuable floor space wide open! They also come in several sizes and colors

Rhino Combo Universal Wall Hanging Kit

These can get a little pricey, but the up high wall space has NO use, that's why these are just perfect there. Hang bikes, coats, or sports gear below. Best use of garage space ever!

Steel Garage Hooks

Just ask my hubs, I buy these by the case. They work for SO many things.

Extension Cord Organizers

We have lot of cords; these make them manageable. Cords, hoses, ropes, etc.

Ceiling Mount Ladder Rack

Ceiling mount ladder rack, keeps the safe and out of the way until you need them.

Wall Mount Cleaning Station

Car wash station. I have a black car, what a nightmare and special way to wash it. I love this because it has all my car supplies in one small spot.

Utility Shelving Cabinet

I love these utility cabinets for storing small things and like items together. Makes them easy to find, and just keeps things tidy. They are a lifesaver and you can add extra shelves as needed. You can also store bins or bulky items on top. Some of them have a hang option on one or both sides for off season clothes.

Clothing Rack with Clear Cover

Most of you know, I live in an 1131 square foot house, on purpose! A 5 x 5 main closet that I share with my husband isn't cutting it. I have this in my garage, with the clear cover. I zip tied some plastic bins to the bottom for shoes, and two times a year, I rotate my clothes. So easy, and I can see what I have in season. We all have those things we aren't ready to part with...yet. Bridesmaid dresses, an old suit or letterman's jacket. This is a great "hall closet" for that stuff so the hall closet in your home can actually accommodate guests coats!

Anti Tip Brackets

These prevent shelves or cabinets from falling over and injuring people. They connect and disconnect quickly and easily.

Metal Shelving

These shelves are adjustable for item heights. Use with wheels or without, and these are often narrow enough to go beside the garage door to the side wall! Often that space goes unused.

Larger Metal Shelving

These are bigger and I often configure them to hold storage bins, and they work great. I love that you can roll them easily.
